Govt. to release seized sand

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (RK&BCT)- In a major relief to people waiting for sand to carry out their construction activities, the District Administration has decided to take steps to release seized sand and also distribute M-sand according to requirements.

At a review meeting of District Mineral Foundation at the Deputy Commissioner's office this morning, Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep who is also the chairman of the Foundation, directed the officials from the Mines and Geology Department to take immediate steps to get permission from the courts to release sand that has been seized by the Police all over the district.

Superintendent of Police Ravi D. Channannavar told the DC that they had seized more than 400 tonnes of sand that were being illegally transported from river beds across the district. "These seized trucks, along with the sand, are parked at Police stations and no steps have been taken to release the sand," he said. The SP added that the seized trucks were consuming a lot of space at the Police stations.

DC D. Randeep who chaired a review meeting of District Mineral Foundation today.

Responding to the SP, Randeep questioned Somashekar who is the Deputy Director of Mines and Geology regarding the demand for sand and its availability in the district. He asked the officer to present details on the number of government projects pending due to non-availability of sand and also the pending projects owned by private parties. He also asked him about the availability of M-sand and the sand that has been seized by the Police.

The officer, however, was unprepared for the meeting and failed to table statistics. Upset by the officer's attitude, the DC asked him not to come for meetings just for the heck of it. The officer was chided by the DC for lack of information and he was asked to furnish details for the next meeting.

Other officials and the Police were told to approach courts to release the 400-tonne sand that have been seized by the Police across the district including Hunsur, T. Narsipur and H.D. Kote. The DC said that while allotting sand and M-sand, priority will be given to government projects and then private applications would be considered.

ZP CEO M. Shivashankar and Narasimharaja Assistant Commissioner of Police Umesh G. Shet were present.

Hon. Doctorate conferred on Prof. Gowri Kuppuswamy

Governor attends 2nd Convocation of Music Varsity; Renowned violinist Dr. L. Subramaniam delivers convocation address

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (RKB&VNS) - Only hard work and dedication will help artistes get recognition and laurels, said renowned violinist Dr. L. Subramaniam here this morning. He was delivering the Convocation address at the 2nd Annual Convocation of Dr. Gangubai Hangal University for Music and Performing Arts held in city this morning.

Stating that Karnataka had contributed immensely to Hindustani Music apart from Karnatak Music, Subramaniam remembered the contributions of Dr. Balamuralikrishna, Dr. Gangubai Hangal, Veene Sheshanna, Piteelu Chowdaiah and other maestros.

He also called upon students to take Indian music to people all over the world. Subramaniam also alleged that a few people, in an effort to get instant fame and recognition, were using the works of M.S. Subbalakshmi and posting them on their online channels. This is unethical and at the same time violates copyright laws.

Prior to this, Chancellor of the University and Governor Vajubhai R. Vala presented Hon. Doctorate to Karnatak Classical vocalist Prof. Gowri Kuppuswamy, who retired as a professor from University of Mysore Fine Arts College.

However, other two dignitaries, N. Rajam and Enagi Balappa were not present to collect their Hon. Doctorates. Later, the University authorities announced that the honour would be presented to them in person.

In her address, Prof. Gowri Kuppuswamy advised the students to work hard to achieve success and fame. She also said that the students must bring laurels to the University.

A total of 47 students, including 30 female and 17 male students, received their degrees. The University also presented 18 gold medals to 12 students, cash prizes to 3 students along with the ranks to 9 students.

Be like a Roman while in Rome

Of the lines taken from the Upanishads, quoted nowadays by public speakers of all hues with various backgrounds, the outlook that the world is a family stands out. The lines, drawn from Maha Upanishad translate to: "One is a relative, the other stranger, say the small minded. The entire world is a family, say the magnanimous minded." We do come across citizens in our neighbourhoods who are living examples of such unalloyed outlook of magnanimity towards all, although their presence in society is not all that glaring. Factors such as physical appearance, faiths followed, tongues used for communication, social behaviour, attiring styles, food habits, professions for earning a livelihood, openly displayed ostentatious living, discourteous responses, unconcealed arrogance, intolerance of others presence, differential prosperity, show of importance as well as influence with disdain and so on play their easy-to-observe role in people distancing themselves from one another, thus shattering the family concept.

Before one dwells on the antithesis of the aforementioned lines from Upanishad namely, not considering people of different countries as belonging to one family, let us take the case of the people of India from different regions (States) which is tell- tale. Demands made by various outfits, particularly in Maharashtra and Kashmir, asking lawfully living residents to move out of their territory mocks at the prescription of "world is one family."

The measure of restricting immigrants to the United States by denying entry visa stated by the incumbent President of that country has not gone down well among the moderates. Not too long ago, the top brass in the government of Australia did practice the 'keep-Australia-white' policy. While such measures surface on and off in many countries, in some cases surreptitiously though, misguided individuals indulge in hate-crime-driven killing of lawfully residing innocent citizens as in the recent incidents of Kansas and Washington. Closer home, we hear reports of some outfits giving vent to their displeasure about influx of people from other regions of the country into the State and perceived threat to livelihood of local populace who have nowhere else to go. Match this with the call of NRI Forum telling Kannadigas in the US to avoid mother-tongue in public places.

Even as the lofty prescription of the magnanimous flock for all across the world to live like one family is well-taken, many governments in the West have been advising their citizens virtually not to take that prescription. In sum, it is wise to "Be like Roman while you are in Rome" in order to keep off from hate-crime-driven killers. Tail-piece: "Be like a buffalo, while you are in Buffalo City." (That city in USA is close to the world famous Niagara Falls).

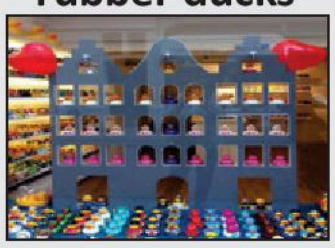
Store sells only rubber ducks



Amsterdam: It all started a few years ago in Amsterdam, when the owner of a small toy store on Oude Leliestraat, noticed that visitors, most of which were tourists, were particularly interested in rubber ducks. Then, one day, the owner read the words of Dutch artist Florentijn Hofman – famous for his giant rubber duck art installations – and was inspired to get rid of the other toys and focus solely on rubber ducks. And that's how the Amsterdam Duck Store was born. The transformation from a general toy store to a rubber duck specialty shop proved a great idea. People passing by couldn't ignore the dozens of colourful ducks staring at them from the window. A second glance then revealed that the whole place was full of rubber ducks arranged neatly on shelves spanning from floor to ceiling. Most of them walked out with one or more squeaky souvenirs.

Kidney stolen in overseas

Jakarta: An Indonesian woman recently revealed that one of her kidneys had been removed without her knowledge three years ago, while she was working in Qatar. 25-year-old Sri Rabitah, from Lombok, in Indonesia, claims that in June 2014 she approached employment agency to help her find a job in the Middle East. As soon as she arrived, her employers told Sri to go through a medical checkup to make sure that she is healthy enough to work. Sri Rabitah recalls that a doctor told her that he was going to give her an injection to help her relax. The shot turned out to be anesthetics. When she woke up, she felt a sharp pain on the right side of her lower back, and a small incision scar. Her employers sent her back complaining that she was unhealthy and unfit to work. She only learned the cause of the pain during a recent medical checkup in Lombok, when a doctor told her that she was missing a kidney. "I want the government to sue the perpetrator," Rabitah said. The House of Representatives (DPR) has called on the Indonesian Government to find those responsible for Sri Rabitah's treatment – both at home and in Qatar – cover all the medical expenses.

SOM's first editorial promises delivered

Sir,

Thank you for publishing the first editorial, heralding the birth of Star of Mysore on 16.2.1978, 39 years back, in the Special 40th Anniversary Issue dated 16.2.2017.

It was quite exhaustive and all the promises, aspirations and improvements conveyed therein, have been successfully implemented during these 39 long years.

It is no mean an effort to successfully publish a newspaper for such a length of time. As we have seen in the past, many reputed regional names like Tainadu, Prajamatha, Mumbai- based Illustrated Weekly published by Times of India group, Blitz edited by Karanjia, Film India which later became Mother India edited and published by the inimitable one and only Babu Rao Patel, have all faded out.

Samachar was the only english eveninger then in Mysore, which used to hit the stands in its own humble way, but, it too did not last long.

I wish SOM all the best.

Boy's death: Parents protest before hospital

Deceased Bhupin

Mysuru, Mar. 7- Parents and relatives of a 7-year-old boy staged a protest in front of Cauvery Hospital in city yesterday alleging negligence by doctors that caused death of the boy. The boy has been identified as Bhupin, son of Mukesh, a newspaper distributor in Kushalnagar.

According to the parents, Bhupin was admitted to the hospital on the Bannur Road on Mar. 3 as he was suffering from kidney-related problems. He was taken to the Operation Theatre (OT) in the evening. Parents claimed that their son's condition worsened inside the OT that led to his death while the doctors at the hospital kept on assuring them that their son was stable and was under observation.

The parents claimed that the doctors shifted their son to the Intensive Care Unit (ICU) without informing them. The doctors assured the parents that the boy was recuperating and yesterday morning, the doctors asked the parents to shift the boy to some other hospital, they alleged. Yesterday evening the doctors told the parents that Bhupin had died.

Enraged by this, parents and relatives stormed to the hospital entrance and broke flower pots and they alleged negligence. As the situation turned tense, the Police rushed to the spot. The protesters demanded immediate arrest of the doctors responsible for the death. The parents alleged that the hospital authorities even offered to bear the expenses of treatment at another hospital.

DCP N. Rudramuni said that they have registered a case based on the complaint filed by the parents against Dr. G. Chandrashekhar, Dr. Sarala Chandrashekhar, Dr. Keshava, Dr. Aravind, Dr. Shivu and Dr. Vaidyanathan.

House burgled: Rs. 2 lakh worth cash, jewellery looted

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (YDS&KS)- Burglars, who broke into a locked house in Hootagalli here, have decamped with gold jewellery and cash worth Rs. 2 lakh.

The incident came to light when Manjulamma, the owner of the house, who had locked the house and had been to a function to a relative's house on Mar. 1, returned home on Mar. 5 only to find the door of the house broken. When she went inside, she found two gold bangles weighing 20 grams, a bracelet weighing 15 grams, a pair of earrings weighing five grams, a gold chain with black beads weighing 40 grams, two finger rings weighing 12 grams and cash worth about Rs. 2 lakh kept in the almirah missing and lodged a complaint at Vijayanagar Police Station.

Vijayanagar Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Though the Police have been continuously urging the public to inform them when they go out of station, so that the Police could keep a watch on the house, many are not doing so, which is leading to such crimes. The Police have again urged the public to inform them when they go out of station leaving their house locked for long time.

Srirangapatna, Mar. 7 (KS)- In a tragic incident, a 35-year-old youth met his watery grave when he ventured into River Cauvery at Srirangapatna on Sunday for a swim.

The deceased has been identified as Suresh, son of Narasaiah and a resident of Mandi Mohalla in Mysuru.

It is reported that Suresh, along with six of his friends, had been to Srirangapatna on Sunday and ventured into the waters for a swim but was swept away due to strong currents and drowned.

His body was fished out of the water yesterday and was handed over to his relatives after post-mortem at Srirangapatna Government Hospital.

Transporting animal trophies

Two from Mysuru among four arrested in Bengaluru

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (MTY&BCT)- Four persons including two from Mysuru were arrested by the Bengaluru Police for allegedly trying to illegally sell mounted trophies of tigers and a leopard. The Police have estimated the price of the seized trophies to be around Rs. 2 crore.

The Police have also seized matador vehicle and a car that were being used by the accused to transport the valuables. The Police have recovered three stuffed tigers (one big and two small) and one black panther, which are alleged to have been obtained from a businessman in Mysuru. The accused are K.V. Arun Kumar, Jagadish, Ashwin Ramaswamy and Rajashekhar. A case has been filed at the Shankarpuram Police Station in Bengaluru.

A case of missing Transport Permit?

Though the Police have claimed that the trophies were meant for illegal sale, sources told Star of Mysore that the trophies were owned by a businessman based in Mysuru and he has all necessary legal documents to prove ownership.

Reportedly, every year the businessman sends the trophies to Bengaluru for cleaning and this time too he sent them for cleaning. As the businessman was not in station, his staff took the trophies to Bengaluru along with the ownership certificate but they were unaware that a permit was required to transport the trophies from one place to another, sources said.

On their way, the vehicle that was transporting the trophies was stopped by Shankarpuram Police for routine check.

On asking for documents, the businessman's staff produced the ownership certificate but they did not produce the permit letter to transport the trophies. This led the Police to suspect that the trophies were being transported for illegal trade and a case was booked, sources added.

S.M. Krishna likely to join BJP on Mar. 20

State BJP Chief B.S. Yeddyurappa is seen greeting the former Chief Minister and former External Affairs Minister S.M. Krishna at Bengaluru yesterday as former Dy.CM R. Ashok looks on.

Bengaluru, Mar. 7- Former Chief Minister and former External Affairs Minister S.M. Krishna, a senior leader who quit the Congress recently, is likely to join the BJP on Mar. 20.

Krishna is likely to be inducted into the party in the presence of BJP National President Amit Shah at a public meeting to take place at a convenient date in Bengaluru after the Assembly poll results of five States are declared on Mar. 11.

Yeddyurappa was accompanied by former Deputy CM and MLA R. Ashok.

Even as Krishna is all set to join the BJP, more than 21 Congress Legislators and an MP are said to be in touch with him.

These Legislators considered to be close to Krishna, will quit the Congress months ahead of next year's Assembly polls and follow their leader in joining the BJP, which has reportedly guaranteed them the ticket, it is learnt.

Siddharamaiah to present Budget for 12th time

Siddharamaiah

Bengaluru, Mar. 7- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah is said to have told his Ministerial colleagues to aggressively market the programmes, schemes and initiatives launched by the State Government during the last four years.

At a Council of Ministers meeting convened on Monday to discuss Budget proposals for 2017-18, Siddharamaiah is learnt to have exhorted the need to connect with the people.

Siddharamaiah, who also holds the Finance portfolio, will present his 12th Budget (A record in the State) on Mar. 15 and it is largely expected to be a populist one. The 2017-18 Budget is estimated to be around Rs. 1. 9 lakh crore.

The meeting also dwelt on the impact of demonetisation on the State's resources, with the shortfall of collections in the Stamps and Registration Department estimated at around Rs. 1,300 crore. During the past few days, Siddharamaiah has been holding Department-wise pre-Budget meetings.

Assembly bypolls likely on Apr. 12 or 15

Mysuru, Mar. 7- The bypoll to Nanjangud and Gundlupet Assembly Constituencies is likely to take place on April 12 or 15 and the notification is this regard is likely to be announced by the Election Commission on Mar. 14.

The Nanjangud bypoll has been necessitated following the resignation of V. Sreenivasa Prasad, who quit the Assembly in Oct. 2016 and as well as the Congress Party later on, after he was unceremoniously dropped from the State Cabinet in June last. The Gundlupet bypoll has been necessitated following the death on Co-operation Minister H.S. Mahadevaprasad on Jan. 3, 2017. Even as the poll schedule is yet to be announced, the ruling Congress and BJP have stepped up campaigning in the two constituencies.

While Sreenivasa Prasad is the BJP candidate for Nanjangud bypoll, the Congress is yet to announce its official candidate, although it seems certain that Kalale Keshvamurthy, a JD(S) leader who recently joined the Congress, will be the Congress candidate.

The battle in Gundlupet will be between Dr. Geetha Mahadevaprasad, wife of late Minister H.S. Mahadevaprasad, who has been declared as the Congress candidate and C.S. Niranjan Kumar of the BJP. With Congress and BJP leaders taking the bypoll as a prestigious issue, there seems likely to be a close contest between the 2 parties.

BJP plans to expose Congress MLA's fraud ahead of Assembly bypoll

Bengaluru, Mar. 7 (KMS& DM)- With Nanjangud and Gundlupet Assembly bypolls round the corner, the BJP plans to expose massive fraud by a Congress MLA of the district once the poll schedule is announced.

The BJP, which is said to have accessed a CD in this regard, is all set to release the CD, which may cause a huge embarrassment to the ruling Congress, which has taken the bypoll as a prestigious issue.

The Congress Government which is already facing a huge embarrassment due to Congress MLC K. Govindaraju's diary case and allegations of huge kickbacks in the steel bridge flyover in Bengaluru, which was recently dropped following corruption charges and public outcry, will have to face more embarrassment once the CD is released, according to top BJP leaders who have advised the lower-rung party leaders to wait until the announcement of the poll schedule for the expose, it is learnt.

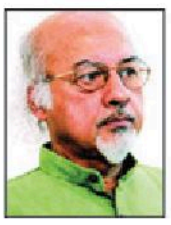
Should Gods be cheaper than a luxury bungalow, cost less than a wedding? A tale of Emperors



Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

K. Chandrasekhar Rao is without doubt the most devout Chief Minister in the country today. No one gives as much space and attention to temples, sages and priests as he does; he had a Seer sit and thus sanctify the new Chief Ministerial chair in the new Chief Ministerial house in Hyderabad before he himself occupied it. During the agitation for Telengana, he had vowed to present gold ornaments to as many as five temples. Two weeks ago he fulfilled one of the vows by donating 18.85 kilograms of gold ornaments worth Rs. 5.45 crore to the holy Tirupathi Temple.

Faith is a sustaining force in India. We should be grateful for that because it encourages us to be good. Leaders with faith in the divine can be expected to bring a degree of fair-play and justice to their leadership responsibilities. Faith enjoins those in power to be guided by the principles of nishkama karma, action without expecting rewards, the central message of the Bhagavad Gita.

But to what extent is this principle honoured in practice? Faith has also become a force that leads to considerable hypocrisy these days. This is true of all religions as a cursory glance will show. Buddhism, the ultimate creed of renunciation and peace, has been an instigator of violence in Sri Lanka and Thailand. Christianity has a provision for Confession. Many go to the priest, confess their sins in holy privacy, carry out the priest's instructions for absolution — then go back to life and commit the same sins. A dip in the holy Ganga purifies the devout Hindu. How many of those who are thus purified remain purified after they return to their everyday life? Religion demands that its followers be righteous. Since religion is man-made, it provides ways for man to appear righteous without necessarily becoming so.

Chandrasekhar Rao's devotion is beyond question. The problem is that he wants the public to pay for his private faith. The gold ornaments he offered at Tirupathi should have been financed by himself and his family. Instead, he made the very first meeting of the Telengana Cabinet pass a resolution authorising the State's Common Good Fund to pay for the gold he offers to temples.

Two issues arise from this mixing of personal interests with public exchequer. The first is the morality of Rao's donations even by the scripture in which his faith is anchored. The other is the political fallout of an act that revives memories of similar moves by less credible devotees.

The moral issue that Rao's munificence raises is simple: Can the Lord be pleased only with such ostentatious offerings? The answer is simpler: Kuchela pleased the Lord with nothing more than a handful of beaten rice. The poverty-stricken man was reluctant to go to his childhood friend who had become the king of Dwaraka. Pushed into it by his wife, Kuchela was overwhelmed by Krishna's love and hospitality. He forgot to say a word about his poverty. But the Lord knew everything and Kuchela returned home to find his hut transformed into a mansion.

K. Chandrasekhar Rao

It is sincerity of the heart that matters. When desire overtakes devotion, everything changes. Kubera did tapass for 10,000 years hanging upside down in water to force Brahma make him the Lord of Wealth. Brahma did not appear. But Gods had their own obligations. When Kubera continued his tapass, this time standing on one leg in the middle of Panchagni, Brahma had to oblige him. Chandrasekhar Rao's devotion is akin to Kubera's, minus the upside-down and the fire.

His golden gift also recalls the munificence of Janardhana Reddy, the erstwhile Karnataka Minister who was jailed for corruption, presenting a 30-kilogram diamond-studded gold crown worth Rs. 42 crore to Tirupathi in 2009. Those figures offer some interesting sidelights. Compared to Rao's 5.45 crore, Reddy's 42 crore looks massive. But compare the 42 crore with the Rs. 550 crore Reddy spent on his daughter's wedding last November. Compare Rao's own 5.45 crore with the Rs. 50 crore he spent on his luxury bungalow. Our netas want to buy even their blessings on the cheap.

Janardhana Reddy had kept a replica of the crown at home, wearing it occasionally, for he believed he was a descendant of Krishnadevaraya, Emperor of the Vijayanagara empire. Tirupathi Temple officials thanked Chandrasekhar Rao by comparing him to Emperor Krishnadevaraya. How unique is our democracy: It turns elected leaders into Emperors.

II PU exams from March 9 to 27

Testing time for students, parents, Minister and PU Board

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (RK&BCT)- In the wake of a series of question paper leaks during the Second PUC examinations conducted last year, the Department of Pre-University Board is leaving no stone unturned to ensure that this year's examinations will pass off question-paper-leak-free and at the same time glitch-free.

While it is an annual testing time for lakhs of students and their parents, it is also testing time for the Department and the Primary and Secondary Education Minister Tanveer Sait. Last year, the Department and the State Government had to face severe embarrassment due to question paper leaks and the situation was complicated by the unpreparedness of the officials and the Ministry to handle the crisis.

This year, it will also be a challenge for the Government to simultaneously ensure the smooth conduct of the examinations and to ensure that the answer scripts are evaluated, in the wake of PU lecturers threatening to boycott evaluation demanding pay parity and other demands.

This year, 6,84,240 students will appear for the examinations from streams including arts, science and commerce and of them, 3,48,438 are boys and 3,35,802 are girls. In all, 5,48,903 are fresh candidates, 1,05,092 are repeaters and 30,252 are private candidates.

To prevent malpractices, officers including Deputy Commissioner, Assistant Deputy Commissioner, Superintendent of Police, Assistant Superintendent of Police, Deputy Director of Public Instruction, Treasury Officer, 10 Tahsildars, 10 Deputy Tahsildars, 10 Block Education Officers, and 10 Principals have been brought under bio-metric system and have been given code numbers.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, PU Board Director C. Shikha said that the Department was fully geared up for the smooth conduct of the examinations. "For the first time, CCTV cameras have been installed at all exam centres and gunmen have been provided to transport question papers. We have written to DG&IGP Rupak Kumar Dutta requesting him to direct SPs in all districts to ensure security in and around II PUC exam centres. We have also sought Police protection for places where confidential material will be stored," she said.

On their part, the Police have imposed ban orders under Section 144, 200 metres around the exam centres. Also, security has been provided at all places where the question papers are stored.

"We will be extra-cautious and will take adequate steps to ensure smooth conduct of exams and students and parents should not get influenced by messages on various social media platforms. Students must concentrate on studies," said Jayaprakash, Deputy Director of PU Education, Mysuru.

CM fumes at Forest Officials

- Asks Forest Minister to take stringent action on negligent Officials
- Forest officials including Chief Wildlife Warden transferred
- Orders CID probe into forest fires in the State

Bengaluru, Mar. 7- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, who held a high-level meeting of Forest Officials here yesterday, fumed over the functioning style of Karnataka Forest Department (KFD) Officials and directed Forest Minister B. Ramanath Rai to take stringent action on negligent Officials besides ordering for a CID probe into the recent forest fires across the State.

Siddharamaiah said that Forest personnel, who did not respond effectively to the forest fires, would face action.

Fuming at the officials for sitting in Bengaluru, the CM said: "Forest officials must be in forests and why do they always sit in their offices here in Bengaluru all the time. I do not see any officer working in forests. Officials should not be complacent in the matter of protecting our forests and I would not endorse that kind of attitude. Who is responsible for the loss that we have suffered?"

Keen on knowing the movements of officials in the last one month, the CM reportedly directed Additional Chief Secretary P. Ravikumar to submit a detailed report on the movement of KFD officials and the work executed by them in forests. He also asked the forest officials to submit a proposal on averting and controlling forest fires.

When officials briefed the CM that donors have helped in drilling borewells and operating them using solar-powered motors, he said: "We must ensure that by making use of these borewells all waterholes be filled with water. If need arises build small check-dams at various vantage points and ensure collection of water."

Siddharamaiah suggested of establishing Fire Stations in forest borders, which would be of immediate help during forest fires for which the State Government would help and to provide training to the Forest staff and locals in extinguishing fires.

Briefing the CM, the Forest officials said that there were no sufficient rains since three years resulting in trees and plants drying and added that it has become a challenge to prevent forest fires this year.

Forest Officials transferred

The State Government has ordered the transfer of Forest officials including Chief Wildlife Warden B.G. Hosmath barely an hour after the high-level meeting which was chaired by CM Siddharamaiah. While Hosmath has been transferred as the Managing Director of Karnataka Forest Development Corporation (KFDC), Kishan Singh Sugara has been made the Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (Wildlife). Ganesh S. Bhat, DCF, Mysuru Wildlife Division, has been transferred as DCF of Kudremukh Wildlife Division. V. Yedukondalu, DCF, Gungaraghatti Training Centre, has been transferred to Mysuru Wildlife Division. D. Maria Christu Raja, DCF of Kudremukh Wildlife Division, has been transferred as DCF of Virajpet Division.

Moderate showers bring some respite to fire ravaged Bandipur Forest

Nagarahole too receives rain

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (MTY&KS)- Light to moderate showers being received in Bandipur Reserve Forest since Saturday has brought some relief in parts of the forest which was ravaged by fire recently.

Forest officials, who are heaving a sigh of relief, are hoping that there would be more rains in the next few days.

As heavy rains are lashing Masinagudi, Mudumalai, Ooty and surrounding places, this resulted in Moolehole, Hediyala, Gundre and Kundagere ranges in Bandipur receiving rains since Saturday and the ponds, which had dried up, are now filled with some water, making deers, birds and small animals coming back to the waterholes.

In Nagarahole, Metikuppe, Kallahalla and Antharasanthe ranges received scattered rainfall. Sources said that though the rains were enough for the vegetation to sprout again, continuous rains would really help and added that high alert would continue, till the forest receives good spell of rains as the present showers was not enough to overcome the threat of fresh fires.

Children's Literary Club conducts 3-week workshop on 'English language learning through English theatre'

By Dr. Malathi

Just a few days ago, a unique experiment was conducted at Bharathi Sthree Higher Primary School. This was to do with workshop relating to strengthening the English language skills of the Kannada medium students through English theatre. The outcome of the workshop was a production titled 'Theatre Does Educate.' It was watched by citizens, who were teachers/administrators, actors, science writers, business persons, Professors etc; a few of them were Central and State Government Award winners.

Dr. R. Purnima with LKG and UKG students of Vivekananda School in Muganahundi.

Some of them had decades of experience as actor/director/producer.

'Theatre Does Educate' was also presented as an item for the School's Annual Day celebrations. For those who were tired of watching dances of film numbers, there was a feast for the eyes; an English drama by the students of Kannada medium school, that too all tiny tots within the age group of 7 to 13 years.

The play 'Theatre Does Educate' is a new concept envisioned by Dr. R. Purnima, Director of Children's Literary Club, Mysuru, to make use of theatre to teach English to underprivileged students along with providing entertainment to them as well as to the audience. She has conceived the concept, written the script and directed the play. It is a unique experiment because it is not like the run-of-the-mill play where a single concept is elaborated. Dr. Purnima introduces to children a variety of concepts through a play.

The play opens with Sahana reading the novel Uncle Tom's Cabin. Her friends invite her to join them in playing a game but she instead makes them watch Yamuna enacting the role of Eliza, a character in Uncle Tom's Cabin. The girl who played the role of Eliza was a sixth standard student, who by her dialogue delivery mesmerised the audience. I am sure many of the students must have had the first taste of Classics. This would certainly initiate them to explore more.

Sahana and her friends then move on to playing indoor games. A Mathematical game in which number seven and its multiples are not mentioned by the students sitting in a circle is played out. It not only entertains the children but also enhances their skill of quick thinking. The students did a wonderful job of playing a genuine game though they were play acting.

Then was the turn of language game: tongue-twisters. It was a treat to see the students reel out tongue-twisters one after another breathlessly, happily and with a lot of energy and enthusiasm.

Many other important aspects of language learning were woven into the play all through. For example there was an Idiom — raining cats and dogs — which the students learnt through a leg-pulling activity which I am sure they will remember forever.

However, while singing accolades about the students, one should not forget the efforts of Dr. Purnima who endeavoured to make the venture a possibility. She being a task master made sure the students deliver the dialogue with proper pronunciation and intonation. It must have been a very difficult task given the fact that those students are not exposed to English theatre at all. Her motto is "Art is for everyone" and she does everything to amplify the extraordinary in the ordinary. She goes out of her way to make a difference in the society through her unique projects.

Similar workshops were conducted by Dr. Purnima at Government Girls Hostel, Adi Pampa Road, V.V. Mohalla, Mysuru and at Vivekananda School in Muganahundi.

Syllabus revision for schools

Awareness programme in June

Mysuru, Mar.7 (US) - "The move by the government to introduce text books for schools with revised syllabus has created a confusion among people and to create awareness on the proposal, a programme will be organised in June," said BJP MLC Arun Shahapur.

He was speaking at an interaction on the subject at Madhava Krupa on JLB road here recently.

Arun Shahapur said that the syllabus revision had raked up a lot of controversies over the last two to three months and added that the proposed awareness programme would throw light on real facts.

He further said that the syllabus revision committee headed by litterateur Baragur Ramachandrappa had evolved a draft copy of the revised syllabus for classes from 1st to 8th standard and added that two subjects in 9th standard have syllabus picked up from CBSE system and the whole exercise is expected to cost Rs. 120 crore. He wondered why Ramachandrappa has not divulged the details of the new syllabus.

Continuing, Arun Shahapur said that the committee had suggested a good training for teachers before implementing the new syllabus. He alleged that the government has proposed to introduce the new syllabus without training the teachers who cannot deliver the goods in expected quality. He pointed out that the government and Education Minister had not co-ordinated well on the issue keeping the teachers in the dark.

Former Vice-Chancellor Dr. K. Chidananda Gowda and Professor K.M. Veeraiah too participated in the interaction.

Ashwin breaks yet another record

Bengaluru, Mar. 7- Indian spinner Ravichandran Ashwin added a new feather in his already illustrious cap by breaking yet another milestone in the longest format of the game.

During the third day of the ongoing Bengaluru Test, Ashwin surpassed current coach Anil Kumble's record of most number of balls bowled in a Test season by an Indian.

After the end of Australia's first innings, Ashwin had bowled a total of 3,749 deliveries in 21 innings so far into season, where as earlier, Kumble owned record with 3,673 balls in 22 innings during the 2005-06 season.

The Chennai bowler has been skipper Virat Kohli's go to man this season and the Ashwin hasn't rarely disappointed.

Ashwin broke Kapil Dev's long standing record of most Test wickets taken in a season by an Indian bowler. The spinner also became the fastest bowler in the history of Test cricket to reach 250 wickets. He is also the top-ranked bowler in the latest ICC Test rankings.

Compost Units to come up at Rayanakere and Kesare soon

By S.T. Ravikumar

Mysuru generates 402 tonnes of waste every day, out of which 200 tonnes are disposed off at compost units, 45 tonnes at four of Zero Waste Management units and 12 tonnes through other means.

Mysuru, Mar. 7- For a city which has won the 'Cleanest City' tag for two successive years, waste management and garbage disposal has become a daunting challenge.

Although Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is working to put in place a perfect mechanism for waste management and disposal, the civic body is facing several hurdles in its way. It is facing another big challenge as waste is being indiscreetly dumped at almost all available vacant spaces and along the roads, especially the Outer Ring Road (ORR).

In a bid to mitigate the waste disposal problem, the MCC has proposed to set up two compost units at Rayanakere and Kesare on the outskirts of city. The city generates 402 tonnes of waste every day, out of which 200 tonnes are disposed off at compost units, 45 tonnes at 4 Zero Waste Management units and 12 tonnes through other means.

Out of the 34.53 acres of land available in Vidyaranyapuram Sewage Farm, three acres of land is being used for landfill in which waste generated from compost and Zero Waste Management units are dumped. At present, waste is being transported to processing units at Vidyaranyapuram and Vishweshwaranagar, wherein they are converted into organic manure. The compost unit set up for processing waste pays Rs. 6 lakh per annum as rent and royalty to the MCC. The unit also delivers 5% of compost produced to the MCC.

As the present compost unit is unable to cope up with the arrival of huge waste, the MCC had sent a proposal to the Government for setting up two more compost units at Rayanakere and Kesare at a cost of Rs. 53.70 crore, which has now been given a green signal by the Government.

The compost unit coming up at Rayanakere will have a processing capacity of 150 tonnes per day and the one at Kesare will have a capacity of 200 tonnes per day. The Government, on its part, has sent a proposal to Karnataka Urban Infrastructure Development and Finance Corporation for technical approval.

Taking no chances on environmental issues, the Government has also sent a proposal to the State Environmental Impact Assessment Authority for environmental clearance, which in turn has issued tenders for submitting a report within three months.

MCC Health Officer Dr. H. Ramachandra said that the MCC has entrusted the State Environmental Impact Assessment Authority to undertake a study of environmental impact and submit a report within three months. As soon as the report is received, the same will be sent to the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board for clearance, he added.

In order to ease pressure on the existing compost unit, the MCC has set up 9 Zero Waste Management units — Sewage Farm, J.P. Nagar, University campus, Gokulam, Kumbarakoppalu, Jodi Thenginamara Road, and Old Kesare and at other two sites.

The MCC pays Rs. 95,344 to process every tonne of raw waste. In any case, with the setting up of two more compost units, it can be said that the MCC is geared up for efficient disposal of waste that is generated every day in city whose population has now soared to 14 lakh.

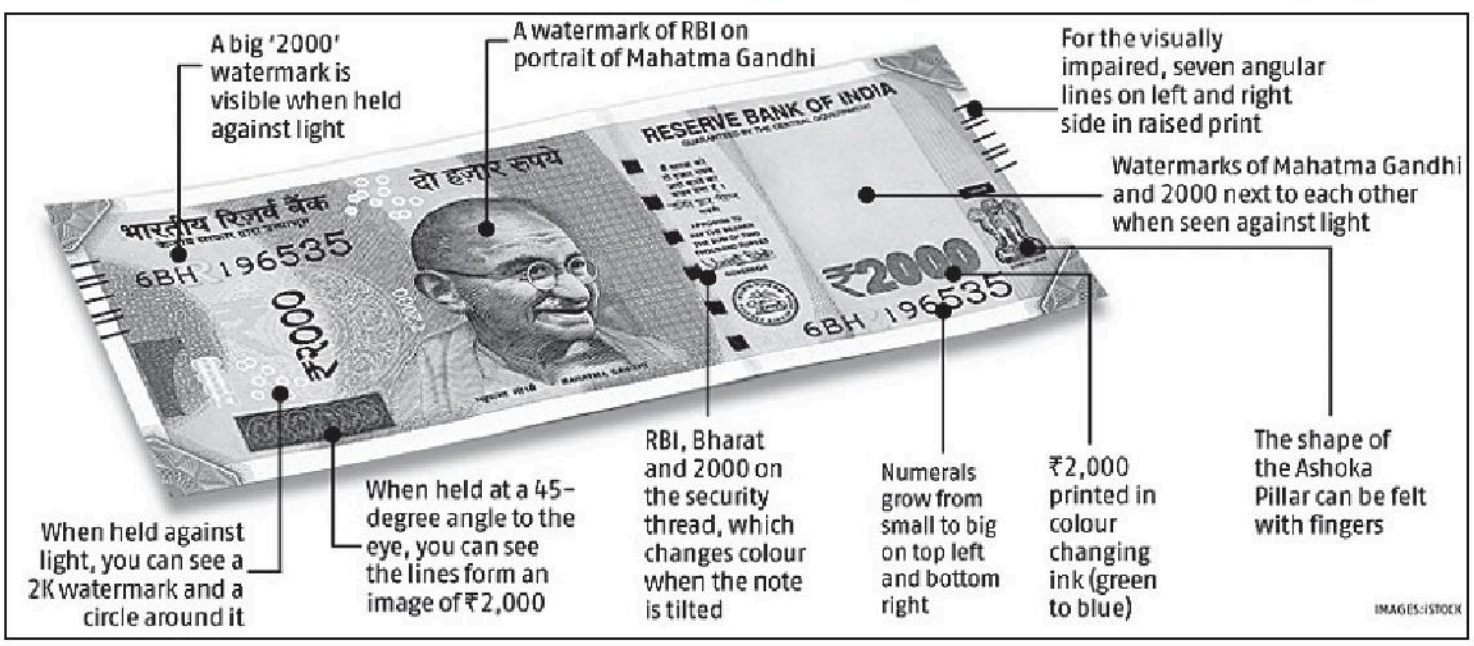
WASTE SEGREGATION

The MCC, under JnNURM, a flagship scheme of the previous UPA Government, has distributed green and red garbage bins to all households in city for waste segregation. The waste generated is being transported in six compactor vehicles to the designated waste disposal plants.

How to spot a fake currency note

Real notes have features such as watermarks, raised printing and colour-changing ink

Recently, a State Bank of India (SBI) ATM in Delhi allegedly dispensed fake Rs. 2,000 notes. While the Police are investigating the source, SBI says it has a system to monitor the quality of notes and "the possibility of fake notes from the Bank's ATMs is very remote." The fake note in this case was easy to recognise with 'Children's Bank of India' printed on it. But, it's not always easy to recognise counterfeit notes. Here are 10 features you can use to check:



A big '2000' watermark is visible when held against light
A watermark of RBI on portrait of Mahatma Gandhi
Watermarks of Mahatma Gandhi and 2000 next to each other when seen against light
RESERVE BANK OF INDIA
दो हजार रुपये
भारतीय रिज़र्व बैंक
6BH 196535
₹2000
When held against light, you can see a 2K watermark and a circle around it
When held at a 45-degree angle to the eye, you can see the lines form an image of ₹2,000
RBI, Bharat and 2000 on the security thread, which changes colour when the note is tilted
Numerals grow from small to big on top left and bottom right
₹2,000 printed in colour changing ink (green to blue)
The shape of the Ashoka Pillar can be felt with fingers

WORD OF THE DAY

Kvetch

Pronunciation: kvech
Meaning: To complain habitually; A complaint; A habitual complainer.
Example: People kvetched when someone else wouldn't relinquish his position.
Origin: Kvetch comes from the Yiddish word kvetshn meaning "to squeeze or to complain." This term is in turn known to have come to Yiddish from Middle High German word quetzen, which means "to squeeze."

THE ODD WORD

Schadenfreude

A malicious satisfaction in the misfortunes of others.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Slush fund

Meaning: Money put aside to be used to bribe or influence, especially in a political context.

Origin: The word 'slush' was coined in 17th century in England as the name for half-melted snow and is first referred to in print with that meaning in Henry Best's Rural Economy in Yorkshire, 1641.
A century later, there was an alternative meaning of 'slush', or 'slosh', which was the fat or grease obtained from meat boiled on board ship. That invaluable guide The Gentleman's Magazine, 1756, referred to it like this:
He used much slush (the rancid fat of pork) among his victuals.
William Thompson made it sound even less appetising in The Royal Navy-men's Advocate, 1757: Tars whose Stomachs are not very squeamish, can bear to paddle their Fingers in stinking Slush.
Despite it not being the apex of culinary delight it was considered a perk for ships' cooks and crew and they sold the fat that they gathered from cooking meat whenever they reached port. This perquisite became known as a 'slush fund' and the term joins the numerous English phrases that first saw the light of day at sea. The author William McNally didn't think much of the practice and included a description of it in Evils & Abuses in Naval & Merchant Service, 1839: The sailors in the navy are allowed salt beef. From this provision, when cooked nearly all the fat boils off; this is carefully skimmed and put into empty beef or pork barrels, and sold, and the money so received is called the slush fund.

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
